A PARTNERSHIP WAGON.

Nathan Williams and Bob Shepherd colored, own a wagon which has been the cause of breaking up their hitherto friendly relations. This four-wheeled affair shivered their friendship for each other, and they tried yesterday morning to smash on another into smithereens. Williams ba the wagon out taking an airing, when Shep-herd wanted it and demanded that he sur-render it, which he refused to do. Hot render it, which he refused to do. Hot words ensued and all of a sudden an uncompromising war began. Williams threw himself out of of the wagon onto Shepherd like a thunderbolt, and they fought like tigers until some friends separated them. They looked like veterans of many wars as they appeared before Justice Kendall yesterday morning with their heads and hands bandaged. The evidence was against Shepherd and his fine and cost footed up $18.85, and Williams was discharged. The partnership wagon is for alle obeas.
